Foreign Policy Of Roosevelt Has World Guessing

Long Standing "Isolationist" Policy Apparently To Be Altered Some

No Comment From Hyde Park On State Department On Latest Developments

HYDE PARK, N. J., Oct. 7.—President Roosevelt had the whole world guessing what his future foreign policy would be today but there were many indications America's long standing isolationist policy would be abandoned in some way to meet the threat of another general war.

Here at Hyde Park, the president relaxed momentarily with his family and refused to make any public statement amplifying his sensational Chicago speech in which he inferentially accused Japan, Germany and Italy of fomenting another world conflict and suggested that aggressor nations be "quarantined."

No Comment

There was no comment on the state department's indictment of Japan as the aggressor in an undeclared war with China and a violator of the Nine-Power Pact and the principles and policies of the Kellogg-Briand Peace Treaty.

Obviously, Secretary of State Cordell Hull issued this pronouncement of policy at the direction of President Roosevelt but the temporary White House refused to make any additional statement.

The blast at Japan, following hard on the Chicago speech, seemed to point to a determination on Mr.

Britain Wants United States To Call Parley

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The American government's latest blast condemning Japan as an aggressor today encouraged Britain to seek to induce President Roosevelt to hold a pacific conference in Washington.

The move will be in line with Britain's policy of getting the United States to take the responsibility and initiative in steps to halt the far eastern conflict.

International News Service learned that Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador to Washington, will be willing to hold such a parley in Washington and to point out that Britain considers the American capital the "most opportune spot".

This attitude is taken here because the United States is regarded by Britain as the virtual guardian of the nine power pact guaranteeing the territorial and administrative integrity of China.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7—Baseball fans by the thousands, eager to see if the New York Giant's prize rookie—Cliff Mleton—can silence the ringing bats of the Yankees turned out to witness the second game of the subway world series today.

The 8-1 setback handed the Giants in the first encounter did not lessen enthusiasm of their supporters who, despite Carl Hubbell's defeat, praised his twirling performance. It did, however, increase the odds by which the Yankees are favored to capture the series.

Today's battle, regarded by experts as the crucial game in a short series, was expected to attract a crowd exceeding the 60,573 paid admission yesterday. Weather conditions added to the possibility of a sell-out.

NINE-POWER PACT CAUSE OF ACTION

Administration Attitude Is Asserted As Opposed To Any Sanctions Against Japan

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The United States will accept the invitation of the League of Nations to confer with nations signatory to the nine-power pact, Secretary of State Cordell Hull announced today.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Sweeping aside a 17-year isolationist policy, the United States today was ready to join an international jury of peace-loving nations in passing judgment on Japan's invasion of China.

After indicting Japan as the aggressor in the undeclared Sino-Japanese conflict and violator of the nine-power and Kellogg-Briand anti-war pacts, the American government awaited a formal invitation to join Great Britain, France and other powers in determining what steps can be taken to stop the Far Eastern war.

To Accept Proffer

That the United States will accept the proffer was a foregone conclusion. It was indicated clearly, according to responsible observers, in President Roosevelt's Chicago speech.

The American government's swift and hearty approval of the League of Nations assembly's indictment of Japan as violator of the nine-power pact firmly charted this government's future course of action toward aggressor nations.

Scarcely had official confirmation of the league's indictment of Japan

Seeks To Prevent Vote On Amendments

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 7. — The fight to prevent the electorate from voting on five consitutional amendments on November 2, it was indicated today, may go to the state supreme court.

The Earle administration marshalled its legal forces in the Dauphin County court to defeat efforts seeking to keep the amendments off the ballots this November.

Paul G. Smith, attorney representing Herman Tausig, local businessman who filed a suit last week asking to restrain the commonwealth from printing the amendments, said he may carry the fight to the state's highest tribunal, now in session in Pittsburgh, if he is overruled in the Dauphin County court.

Claim Is Made

Tausig claimed that the amendments were not advertised properly and therefore it would be illegal for the commonwealth to print the amendments on the ballots.

Either Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti or his deputy Edward Friedman will argue the case for the commonwealth, and, it was learned, speedy action will be demanded in view of the short period remaining between now and election day.

Tausig, through his counsel, said

Get Your Pencil Out And Figure What You'll Give To The Chest On Saturday

By now you should be figuring out what amount of money you're going to pledge to the 1937 Community Chest on Saturday.

That's "Volunteer a Subscription Day" and from talk along the sidewalks a lot of citizens, realizing that it means a saving in money, are going to "stop in" at Chest headquarters at 37 North Mercer street and voluntarily sign up the card they usually let some worker carry around for several days during the campaign proper.

It's something new in the conduct of Community Chests, that's true, but Chest leaders here have faith in the idea. They believe that more citizens than most people believe will stop that day and pledge for 1937. And when they do, that much work of the big campaign that comes October 18 to 22 will be over.

Nine agencies will benefit from this fall's campaign for $70,000.

New Wage-Hour Bill Being Formed

Report Basic Form Drawn Up

Thirty Democratic Congressmen Reported In Bloc Favoring New Plan

OHIO CONGRESSMAN TO SPONSOR BILL

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International New Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1937.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Anticipating a special session of congress, 30 Democratic congressmen have agreed upon the basic form of a new wage-hour bill as a substitute for the administration's Black-Connery bill.

The new bloc, is was disclosed today, regards enactment of national minimum wages and maximum hours legislation in the next session of congress, either special or regular, as inevitable.

The substitute plan, which may split Democratic ranks in the house, is based upon expansion of power and authority of the federal trade commission.

Substitute Plan.

The plan is:

1. Amendment oof section five of anti-trust act, to permit federal trade commission to declare as an unfair trade practice payment of sub-normal wages, excessive hours of child labor.

2. Shipment of goods into a state having labor standards above that of an industry held by the commission to be guilty of unfair trade practice, would be prohibited.

Rep. Arthur Lamneck (D), Ohio, will introduce the new bill on the first day of the new session. Others also may introduce it.

During the six weeks since congress adjourned, the group, chiefly through exchanging ideas by correspondence, has united on the new substitute plan.

Since the Black-Connery wage-hour bill passed the senate, the battle in the new session will center in the house.

"It is our belief that 90 per cent of southern Democrats and a large group from other sections, particularly the middle and far west, will support he substitute program," said Lamneck.

"Enactment of legislation is inevitable. The Black-Connery bill is regarded by excellent lawyers as unconstitutional. But it also would have a bad effect on the country.

"Under that bill, the chief executive or party in power could use it to enforce party loyalty by reducing or increasing wages or by increasing or decreasing profits to force industry into lin.."

Roosevelt's part to take some active part on attempting to preserve peace. What that step would be had observers perplexed.

Policy Perplexes

Would he take the initiative in calling a world peace conference? Did he advocate sanctions (penalties)? Was not there an implied conflict between his utterances in Chicago and the Neutrality Act?

To these and many other questions, Mr. Roosevelt declined any answer as he enjoyed a momentary breathing spell before boarding his special train tonight for Washington. There, tomorrow, he will see Secretary of State Cordell Hull and other officials but it was anticipated his foreign policy, for the moment at least, would remain a mystery.

White House reporters recalled that the president in the past has frowned upon the idea of his calling an international conference. Whether he would agree to send representatives to one called by some other nation was not known.

Mr. Roosevelt was not so secretive about his immediate domestic program, however.

Special Congress Session

As a result of 7,000 miles of travel in 13 days from coast to coast, the president has decided to call a special session of congress, sometime between November 8 and 16 to take up four major matters the last session neglected.

They are crop control, hours and wages, government reorganization, and establishment of eight regional boards to plan and recommend to the White House essential public works.

In addition, there was a strong possibility that Mr. Roosevelt might revive his unsuccessful fight to reorganize the judiciary—up to and perhaps ultimately the supreme court itself.

The president explained it was his idea to get congress back on the job of mid-November so it could get some spade work done before the Christmas holidays on his 4-point program.

Although Mr. Roosevelt is returning to Washington tonight, he will remain there only until next Tuesday. On the night of October 12 he will move the White House temporarily to Hyde Park.

CHINA LOOKS HOPEFULLY FOR AID OF WORLD

ton's attitude toward evacuation of American citizens from China becomes understandable.

Thousands of Americans here who were puzzled, baffled and enraged by orders pressing them to leave their homes and investments on what seemed to be insufficient grounds today comprehend the meaning of the American policy.

They have accepted the idea that if Washington intends to act against Japan, evacuation of American citizens becomes a precautionary measure, understandable even to those whom initially it hurt most.

It is now confidently expected here that the United States will participate in the proposed nine-power pact conference and that Washington is willing to join the League of Nations in imposing full economic sanctions against Japan.

Sanctions Likely

In the official Chinese view Japan would crumble under such economic sanctions and would be compelled to withdraw from China. It was pointed out here that economic sanctions never had a real trial, as oil sanctions, the only effective type, never were applied to Italy during her Ethiopian campaign.

The Chinese reject the theory that sanctions mean war and ask if anyone believes Japan would deliberately wage war against the whole world.

However, a considerable number of Americans and other foreigners share the American state department's apparent anxiety regarding the reaction of Japanese military officials.

Fight In Mud

Meanwhile, Chinese troops, spurred by the new turn of international developments, fought waist deep in water-logged trenches and repulsed fierce Japanese attempts to break through their lines north of Shanghai.

Rain is falling with almost tropical intensity, preventing aerial activity on this sector, and the entire countryside around this city is a quagmire.

The Japanese are concentrating on artillery and naval shelling operations, using mostly eight-inch shells.

While Japanese planes rained bombs on South China, reportedly killing 500 persons, a Chinese spokesman tearfully voiced his nations gratitude for America's condemnation of Japan as an aggressor.

"We are jubilant and grateful," the spokesman told International News Service, his eyes moist from emotion.

"There are now no fears that China's greatest friend will stand coldly aside in our greatest extremity, while we play a pathetically courageous hand against the monster might of Japan."

Even as he spoke fresh reports poured into Shanghai of Japanese aerial attacks in the region around Canton, estimating more than 500 persons were killed by Japanese raids in the western part of Kwang-Tung province, of which Canton is the principal city.

These advices said the towns of Shiukwan, Chunghau and Whampao were damaged badly.

GIANTS HOPEFUL ROOKIE TWIRLER CAN HALT YANKS

Hubbell found was impossible. A Giant victory today would send the teams to the polo grounds on even terms tomorrow.

Joe McCarthy, Yankee pilot, pinned his hopes on the sturdy right arm of Charley "Red" Ruffing. A veteran both in experience and world series play, Ruffing also has a record of 20 wins this season. In addition, he wields a potent bat thereby increasing the explosive power of the American leaguers.

The Yanks are 3 to 2 favorites to take today's game and the odds on them to retain their worlds championship range as high as 8 to 5.

Giant supporters feel that if Melton receives the air-tight defense his teammates are capable of giving they will have reason to cheer tonight. They point to Bartell's error yesterday, when he had Gomez trapped off second base, as a turning point in the battle and start of Hubbell's collapse.

But Yankee fans are not without their "ifs." Their cry is wait until McCarthy's sluggers start pounding the ball in accustomed fashion. When the Yanks can win an 8-1 score on seven hits, only one of which was for an extra base, they shudder at the thought of what might happen when Gehrig, DiMargio, Dickey et al start blasting seriously.

his action was taken independently without the backing of any organization, political or business.

Approved by two legislatures, the amendments to be voted on in November, the courts willing, would:

Permit enactments of a graded income tax; permit consolidation of city-county government in Philadelphia; "legalize" appropriations for old age and mothers' assistance pensions; permit a $42,000,000 bond issue for institutional building (the Earle administration has decided to urge defeat of this one); remove the five-year "time-lock" from the constitution.

The four amendments backed by the Earle administration are pledges of the Democratic organization. Enabling legislation at the coming special session of the legislature was planned.

If the courts deny the commonwealth the right to print the amendments, the scope of a special session, if there is to be one in that event, would be reduced considerably.

a burlap bag at the bottom of an abandoned mine shaft near here. Her throat had been slashed from ear to ear.

State Police Captain Jacob Mauk said Bates admitted striking the girl with a heavy shoe to silence screams when he attempted to attack her; cutting her throat with a paring knife when she began to revive; removing her clothing and soaking it with kerosene preparatory to burning it and then throwing her oody down the mine shaft.

As was her custom, the little girl had gone to the house where Bates lived alone since the death of his wife to run errands for him. Captain Mauk said Bates sent the girl to the store for tobacco and that the attempted attack and killing occurred upon her return.

THE WINDSORS ARE COMING

ANNOUNCEMENT that the Duke and Duchess of Windsor will visit the United States is certain to stir the emotions of the romanticists who have followed with unfailing interest the adventures of the former king and his American-born wife.

The purpose of this visit holds intriguing aspects. It will be made to enable the Duke of Windsor to study housing and working conditions in the United States. The question logically arising involves the ultimate end of such a study. To what practical use can an exile, whose native land is closed to him and who wanders from alien soil to alien soil, apply the knowledge to be gained?

Official England will find in this news of the plans of its former king cause for annoyance and anxiety. It can be and will be interpreted as a subtle bid for the sympathetic interest of the working classes of England and as an advance indication of an intention to return home in the not distant future.

Edward's presence in England, even as a peaceful citizen with only friendliness in his heart and mind, would have a disturbing effect upon the equanimity of the established order, especially if he should come to be looked upon as a champion of the working classes.

In America the Duke and Duchess of Windsor will be received cordially, although not always considerately. If they have any hope of privacy or freedom from the gaze of surging crowds they will probably experience disappointment.

A NEEDED DRIVE AGAINST PNEUMONIA

The plan drawn by the state secretary of health and a commission of the Pennsylvania Medical Society for more effective state-wide control of pneumonia appears to have considerable merit. Pneumonia now exacts a death toll of some 8000 in Pennsylvania annually and anything to combat it forcefully will be welcome.

The proposed program would make pneumonia a reportable disease, with immediate diagnosis of the type required in each case, and with serum made available free of charge for those unable to pay for it. State laboratories to aid in diagnosing cases and in distributing serum would be established throughout Pennsylvania, with the Health Department in this city co-operating.

Combating this dread disease in mass attack, such as this proposal calls for, should be effective.

ON NOISE

Scientists and others interested in noises have about concluded that the one real horrible example in the realm of din, the greatest noise of all time, was the volcanic explosion that blew off the top of Mt. Krakatoa on an island in the East Indies in 1883.

It was indeed, quite a noise, at least twice as loud as the roar of traffic in New York City, and one which could be heard 3,000 miles away. It had in intensity, 190 decibels, if you know what a decibel is. Against such evidence the Krakatoa claim is impressive but not, however, wholly convincing. Three thousand miles is a great distance, but there was that shot fired at Concord in 1775 and heard round the world (medial circumference, 24,860 miles). And if controversialists decline to accept Ralph Waldo Emerson's calculations on this matter, we are prepared to submit as a competitor to the volcano the person in the next block who honks for a neighbor each morning at six.

According to our computation, he makes a noise of at least 380 decibles, being half again as loud as the wail of a cat at midnight.

AWAY FROM IT ALL—IN THREE CANOES

Easy-chair adventurers who roam the far places of the world, in strict vicariousness, will get a kick out of the plans of a Finnish-American sea captain to sail around the world in three years in a craft made up of three canoes lashed together.

Venturing upon the open sea and battling its storms and furies in three canoes, lashed together or not, may not seem the most pleasant prospect in the world to landlubbers, but to Captain William Sallston his voyage holds promise of glamorous excitement and few real dangers. The waves of the Atlantic and Pacific he dismisses lightly: his outriggers will break them before they reach his main canoe. The most severe test will come, he believes, in the sea between Australia and New Zealand, where the rolling swells break close together.

Captain Sallston is made to order material for such a voyage. A Viking, a born sailor, he ran away to sea when fourteen, spent four years before the mast on a Russian bark, was shanghaied aboard a British vessel at Callao, was torpedoed in an American ship during the war. With a bathing suit, food and water for ninety days, fishing and hunting equipment, he will be off on his lonely adventure in the path of the setting sun.

Each night he will haul in sail, throw out a sea anchor, and by the light of a lantern in his tiny cabin jot down the day's log.

Later on, doubtless, if the lashings don't slip, his voyage will become known as a "saga of the sea," to coin a phrase. But just now it looks, to those chained to a mundane existence, like the last word in getting away from it all.

When you see a bigamist's picture you can't understand why seven women married him, till you see the women.

Gossips deserve pity. Think of a life so dull and empty that nothing seems interesting except other people's business.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

NEW YORK—President Roosevelt, addressing the Herald-Tribune forum from Cleveland, says no human being can possibly get a complete picture of any national problem without traveling through the country and talking with people in every walk of life:

"And in your travels, don't talk to your banking friends or your Chamber of Commerce friends, but specialize on the gasoline station man, the small restaurant keeper and farmers you meet."

BALTIMORE—Attorney General Cummings advocates registration of all types of firearms by fingerprinting their owners:

"No honest man can object to it. Show me the man who doesn't want his gun registered and I will show you a man who shouldn't have a gun."

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass.—Ralph B. Wilson of the Babson statistical organization says business prosperity is assured for the next two years at least:

"There will eventually be a good business boom before we finally start down in the next fundamental decline."

TEACHER SUN TANS

Writes an Iowa school teacher:

"Dear Dr. Myers: Some time ago you remarked what a shame it was that farm people, who have the best opportunity to get a lot of sun, are the class who think the least of it.

"As in most of your opinions, I again agree that they should make better use of this opportunity.

"I am at present, during this summer, helping my parents on the farm—busy from 5:30 a. m. until 8:30 p. m. My vocation is teaching in a small town. Most of my work here consists of outdoor work, in the fields, gardens, lawn and chores—a good and utilized chance to make the most of the sun rays.

"All summer long I go without a hat, go barefoot, and wear brief and yet not immodest clothes. Around the garden, house and such, I wear shorts and a sun-tan blouse. Many times during our noon-day rest, I pull my canvas around in the orchard and give by thorax a good sunning. My aim is to get at least 15 hours of sun on my thorax before school starts. By a little tact, I can read or do other jobs while lying so. If I can keep healthy by such an easy, pleasant, and economical method, I surely want to do so.

"Goodness! Why do some of the farm girls and women and men choke clothes around their bodies in the summer as though the sun were only meant for the field and gardens? I should think more men would pull off their shirts and more women would at least go into some secluded place in a brief suit, to sun themselves and their kiddies.

Canvas Is Helped

"I secured a piece of white medium weight canvas (72 by 30 inches), hemmed the edges, and it serves as the best piece of property. I use it instead of a blanket. . . . I use it for sitting on in doing all sorts of jobs as sewing, mending, shelling peas, peeling spuds etc. . . . Parents would find it ideal for a baby to play on. . . . It will not wrinkle. It is cool, keeps out dampness. . . . Every family should have one. . . .

"I have one more month in which to secure more fresh air, healthful exercise, and sunshine before fall. I enjoy excellent health and I do believe these factors hold a great part in rendering that precious security. . . . I am a grade teacher, 29 years old, helping my aged parents on the farm. However, during the school year I work frantically on my B. E. degree, besides my teaching. . . . I do want to progress. . . . Thank you for your kind suggestions sent for my stuttering pupil. It is most appreciated."

THE SMALL BOY IS HAPPY

All day long he plays joyfully, and everything in life is interesting to him. He wakes up cheerfully. He likes everybody laughs more than cries. And he is quite sure that everybody likes him as much as he likes them.

He cannot imagine a world in which anybody disliked anybody. He has never heard of such words as "hate," "jealousy," "self-pit" or "melancholy"...This is a lovely world, and he is gladly a part of it. He likes flowers and trees and sticks of wood and old coffee cans and heaps of sand and his wagon and birds and his toy dog and his books and every strange dog he sees on the street . . . Of course there are some foods that the Small Boy does not like, and he says so vociferously. He does dawdle over his meals, just sits and looks at his food and talks. How he does talk...and listen to everything that is said... and argue. His tongue is never still. He gabbles from morn to night, and when he runs out of the English language he makes up gibberish and fondly repeats it over and over and over till he drives his parents and his sisters crazy. He thinks that's funny. In fact, nearly everything is funny to that small boy. Or if not exactly funny, intensely interesting.

When he fell off the diving board and had to be rescued, he was furious for a few moments at the indignity of it, but he was even more interested. To think of such a thing happening to Him! It was a marvelous experience and he talked about it for days. He had never come up with a jolt against the realization that other human beings aren't as interested in you as you are in yourself. (And that goes for even the most glamorous of motion picture stars.)

So far, the Small Boy has known only safety in his life. Life fits him well. He has known nothing but affection and living has been a beautiful and natural experience. It will not always be like this for him. And even I, his father, do not ask that it should be. He must have his share of pain and struggle, disappointment and sorrow. He must not escape his proper share of existence. But if he grows into strength and character and wisdom, he will never lose that happiness that the Small Boy knows today.

DEAR MISS MARKEL—Should the ushers at a wedding be the friends of the bride's or of the groom's family?

ONE IN DOUBT.

Answer—Usually they are chosen from among the friends and relatives of both the bride and the groom.

There should be at least one chosen by the bride, just as there should be a "groom's bridemaid"—picked from among his family.

Dear Miss Markel—How long after the death of a friend should one wait before calling on the bereaved family or sending a letter of condolence?

NANCY.

Answer—As soon as you have learned of the death you should go immediately to the house and, if unable to see any member of the bereaved family, write "with sympathy" on your visiting card and leave it at the door.

If such a call is not practicable, write a letter of condolence as soon as possible and send flowers.

Results Of Roosevelt Trip.
Believe Nothing Gained Or Lost.
President's Hold Undiminished.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

OBSERVERS IN the states through which President Roosevelt has been traveling cannot find any tangible results from President Roosevelt's trip to the coast. He carried the states heavily in his election—and, so far as they can see, he would carry them again.

At the same time, his Democratic opponents in the same states probably could be re-elected, with the possible exception of Senator Edward R. Burke of Nebraska—and he could be re-elected with the aid of Republican votes, which he would have.

Thus the stalemate continues. Truly enough, young New Dealers are rising in these states to try to take the togas away from the anti-New Dealers—and they may be successful. But that merely accentuates the issue:

The 1938-1940 elections will be fought out on a New Deal-anti-New Deal basis. The particular fights may bear another title on the surface—supreme court, Black, budget-balancing, etc.—but the actual sub-surface argument is New Deal or anti-New Deal.

The president made that clear when he renewed his pleas for a crop regulation bill and passage of a wage-and-hour law. They touch the basic socio-economic fight, the foundation of it all.

IN A CORNER?

If such be the case, then President Roosevelt will be in a dilemma over the Democratic nomination.

If the Democrats try to nominate an anti-New Dealer to succeed him, he will have to fight for the nomination of a man of his own beliefs—or be forced into the distasteful venture of running again.

If he fights for a man of his own beliefs, that man may be anathema to old-line Democrats. He may not even be a Democrat. Yet he may be a New Dealer of greater capability than anybody in the Democratic ranks.

It will take a fighter—not to lick the Republicans but the Democratic conservatives.

There isn't the sign of a man on the horizon who has the generalship or magnetism of President Roosevelt.

His opponents may try to have him "ruled out" by the third-term precedent. In fact, not MAY—the word definitely is WILL.

But like so much of the strategy recently, it has its flarebacks, and some of the seasoned political leaders do not agree with these tactics.

AGAIN—WHO?

The Democrats, therefore, are far from one mind on the type of 1940 nominee. New Dealers would take a La Follette gladly—but old liners, no! A Governor Murphy would have been all right, but now that the Klan issue has been stirred up again, the old-line southerners probably would oppose that selection. A Secretary Wallace would be satisfactory for the farm belt, but he would have no magnetism in the large cities.

Governor Earle of Pennsylvania? He seems already to have shot his bolt.

A "leading old-line" Democrat? He could not be nominated if President Roosevelt controls the convention—as he will.

Besides, if an "old line" Democrat were nominated, the Republicans might play "a mean trick" by nominating Mayor La Guardia of New York, and winning the New Deal vote away from the Democrats.

One can predict for 1940 merely—that it will be full of fireworks.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

ANOTHER NATIONAL ASSET.

Seventy-one years ago, just after the Civil War, the stock fire insurance companies of the nation took a momentous step. The great age of pioneering was in full swing. The West was being developed. Railroads were being laid across the continent. New cities and towns were coming into existence. Industry was expanding at an unprecedented rate. It was apparent that gigantic new property values were being created, and that dependable fire insurance would be vital to the nation's future.

The companies organized the National Board of Fire Underwriters. They had two primary objects. One was to develop the country's fire insurance system so that it should be fully abreast of what the pioneers were achieving and building. The other object was to put the business of stock fire insurance upon so sound a basis that not the slighest question could ever arise as to its ability to meet every possible demand for insurance service, and to fulfill every obligation assumed.

Both these ideals were attained. Insurance became the backlog of the nation's credit—the great protector for homes and industries. The average cost of stock fire insurance has been cut about in half. The industry's financial reserves give the ultimate assurance that just claims will be paid. The services of the industry to the public have been also amazingly broadened. Far-reaching fire prevention work has been carried on. An inspection system has been established whereby fire insurance experts examine cities, towns and industries for hazards. An aggressive program to make schools safer from fire is always under way. So it goes, down a long list of services designed to save lives and dollars.

Thus, in a lifetime the stock fire insurance industry has come from relative unimportance to where it is an indispensable element in our national life.

SILENT BEAUTY

They little knew who passed it by
The glory of the spot.
They never saw the twinkling eye
Of Little Laugh-a-lot!
They never heard the cheerful song
That filled the rooms all day.
Head high, head down, they moved along
And seldom looked that way.

Although the yard was neatly grassed
And porch and walk were swept,
'Twas just another house they passed
By man and woman kept.
They knew that children gathered there,
But little did that mean,
Since children gather everywhere
A patch of grass is green.

A siren screaming in the air
Would start them on the run
At dismal spots to stand and stare
Where murder had been done.
They heard the clamor of a brawl
And to the scene they'd fly,
But beauty makes no shrieking call
And so they passed it by.

Sometimes they whispered: "Can it be
That pride and grace are dead,
Since sin and shame are all we see
Along the paths we tread?"
But still that house where children played
And roses lined the wall
And love kept all things lovely, stayed
Unnoticed by them all.

TODAY Is The Day

THURSDAY, OCT. 7.

Once Upon Oct. 7th.—The only poet in the world's history whose birthday is a legal holiday is James Whitcomb Riley, who was born Oct. 7, 1853 in Greenfield, Ind. Since 1915 (when he was still alive), the Hoosier state has paid him the unique tribute of observing October 7 as Riley Day.

Indiana holds Riley's works in markedly higher esteem than the rest of the world. Nowadays, he is not regarded elsewhere as the possessor of any notable talent or originality.

In fact, his first published poem was signed Edgar Allan Poe. It was a hoax he perpetrated on a newspaper by claiming he had discovered the poem on the fly-leaf of an old book inscribed by Poe. Riley's excuse, when the deception was uncovered, was that it was the only way he could attract attention.

He got the idea for "When the Frost is on the Pumpkin and the Fodder's in the Shock", perhaps his best known verse, from hearing a then unpublished poem, "When the Bloom is Upon the Alder and the Tassel's on the Corn," read by the author, Donn Piatt, while he was a guest at Piatt's home. Riley came out with his version before his host's got in print.

In his early days, Riley, an unruly youth who wouldn't go to school, was a tramp sign-painter and "blind man," having himself led around by a small boy. His other occupations were of like nature.

He began versifying while he was an entertainer for a patent-medicine show, playing a banjo and making up off-color ditties about the towns visited. Such verse continued to issue from his pen for covert distribution through the years he was winning a reputation for high moral sentiment with such poems as "Little Orphant Annie."

thing—that he remains the greatest vote getter of the age.

The very denunciations of his enemies are turned to account.

When the Black incident broke, the president met it as does a master tactician. He retreated from the center of the fire and carried the war into the camp of the enemies who had shelled him hardest in his previous battle.

He took them off their guard by fighting a different kind of battle than they had expected.

He spoke kindly of all the folk he met—but was careful to see that his opponents were not there to share in the casual conversations, the kind that get the votes.

He talked of hopes, of happy hopes, of families and children and their future. And was met by his own grandchildren, and visited his daughter, as would any other father, in her home on a street with other homes.

And, on the trip back east, as some groups still flared over the Black matter, he lunched with Cardinal Mundelein, able prince of the Catholic church, who digs into the Fascists once in a while and who is a great believer in the New Deal.

Brakeman Has Close Call As Car Turns Over

Boulder Four Feet In Diameter Probably Saved Life Of Railroader

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 7.—Crushed by a Baltimore and Ohio railroad freight car which upset while being shifted in the Etna yards early today, William J. Brennan, 61, of Punxsutawney, was rushed to the hospital in a serious condition.

A boulder about four feet in diameter probably saved Brennan's life, police said, by keeping the car from completely covering the victim. Rescuers were forced to dig several feet into the soft earth to remove him.

Police were unable to immediately determine the cause of the accident. They said the car was being shifted to a siding with Brennan, a brakeman, riding it when it was derailed and overturned.

Etna's Police Chief Frank Kaschai and Patrolman Joseph Kasunich, attracted to the scene by Brennan's moans, were the rescuers.

Much Territory In Mercer County Leased For Gas

Test Well Is Being Drilled On A. S. McCullough Farm Near Mercer

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Oct. 7.—During the past 30 days, 1500 acres of farm land surrounding Mercer has been leased for natural gas development. The trio of leasing companies who have filed their papers with Recorder John Service include the Manufacturers Light & Heat Company of Pittsburgh, the Sylvania Company and United Natural Gas Company, both of Oil City.

The acreage reported is a segment of 6000 acres held for this purpose in the townships surrounding Mercer leased within the last year following the making of tests by the companies reported of the gas sand. Papers filed here indicate the most extensive development program in the community history.

Gas strikes within the last 25 years in this territory lends credence to the program. The best known was 15 years ago in Coolspring township when a pocket of gas was found in connection with an oil strike. The wells coming in at 800 feet did not last long in their production of either oil or gas but for a two-year period the community on a boom that with their larger acreage and more extensive program the trio of companies named may bring. The second find was of more recent date in Springfield township when several good wells were brought in. Gas from this development was piped to Mercer and sold to the United Natural which is the supplying company of the Mercer Gas Company, owners of the local franchise. A quarter century ago gas fields at Big Bend vicinity and plugged wells are lasting testimonials of what may be expected there. This territory is all under lease. The land leased is in the townships of Jefferson, Fairview, Coolspring, Lackawannock and Springfield. All of them have been productive at times.

A well is now being drilled on the A. S. McCullough farm near Mercer. The test will be made to a depth of 5000 feet if necessary to determine the productivity of the territory. Old timers conversant with the drilling operations of the past quarter century predict that the well will be the first to stamp the territory as a "find." Any territory that is promising at all is under lease, it is stated.

Annual Dental Society Banquet Is Fine Success

Event Takes Place Wednesday Evening At New Castle Field Club

PITTSBURGH MEN MAIN SPEAKERS

About 50 dentists gathered at the New Castle Field club, Wednesday, for the annual banquet of the Lawrence County Dental society. The occasion was a success from every standpoint.

The group consisted of dentists from Lawrence County, Mercer County, Shenango County, Allegheny County and several from Youngstown and Warren.

With ideal weather prevailing during the afternoon hours, save for a light drizzle about 4 o'clock, the men lugged along their clubs for a round of golf on the treacherous field club course. After it was all over, Dr. R. C. Lutz, and Dr. R. C. Gilmore, both of New Castle, walked away with honors. The matches were exciting throughout and proved among the features.

In the evening, the group enjoyed a sumptuous dinner. The program continued with addresses by Dr. P. V. McParland and Dr. E. G. Meisel, both professors at the University of Pittsburgh. Dr. McParland chose, "Organized Dentistry," for his topic. The address proved most educational and was thoroughly enjoyed. Dr. Meisel made a few remarks. Dr. Ralph Hamilton, as toastmaster of the evening, enacted his role capably.

An orchestra entertained the group with a number of pleasing selections. Door prizes were awarded to Dr. R. Williams, of New Wilmington and Dr. B. Moresky, of New Castle.

The gathering whiled away the remainder of the evening delightfully, playing cards and discussing various topics of interest. The affair went down into the annals of the organization as one of the most successful events in the past several years.

Efforts on the part of the following committee were responsible for the outcome: Dr. Ralph Hamilton, Dr. Lee Hamilton, Dr. T. McFate, Dr. Ted Heess and Dr. P. I. Ginsburg.

Another Edenburg Case Being Heard

Ashley Heirs Case Involves 32 Acres Through Which Viaduct Was Built

The case of the Presley Ashton heirs, for land taken and damaged by reason of the building of the Edenburg viaduct, was taken up before Examiner Dilley of the Public Service Commission at the Lawrence county court house this morning. Those interested in the land are Elizabeth Mitcheltree, Adda Robinson, Mary Bell Stanley, Leander Howe and Robert Howe.

The tract contains 32 acres, and is that section of land through which the viaduct, running from the Mahoning river to the Pennsylvania railroad, was built. The viaduct divides the land into three parcels, one lying south of the spur built into Edenburg, the other to the north west of the viaduct, and the other the third east of the viaduct.

The case of Mrs. Alice Reeble and James Reeble, for damages to a property on the north side of the river and west of the viaduct, which was up for hearing on Wednesday, occupied the greater part of the day. After all of the witnesses for the complainants had been heard, County Solicitor William McElwee, raised some questions of law, which Examiner Dilley said would be referred to the commission. The case was then continued until a ruling is handed down on the questions raised.

Marlene Dietrich Answers Attack By German Newspaper

(International News Service)

PARIS, Oct. 7—Marlene Dietrich, Hollywood film star, replied today to Nazi charges that she is a "traitress" to Germany with a figurative yawn of boredom.

Replying to the attack against her in the Nuremberg weekly newspaper Der Steurmer, the actress replied:

"I am so accustomed to similar insults I no longer care what German papers say about me. Of course I associate with Jews in Hollywood. They are mostly German Jews. That's why the Nazis are against me."

SHARPSVILLE CHURCH WILL HEAR SINGERS

A capacity crowd at Ellwood City's First Baptist church enjoyed the City Rescue Mission's talented Spiritual Jubilee Singers and tonight the singers will appear before a Sharpsville audience.

While the singers make their nearby visits the mission's nightly services continue just as before the opening of its 25th anniversary celebration.

ASSESSMENT FAULTY

During council meeting at the City building today the city solicitors reported to solons concerning an assessment of property of Earl and Chester Sweesy. It had been stated that the property of Earl Sweesy included some of the property owned by Chester Sweesy. He had been assessed for such, it was reported. The solicitors said the assessor has authority to make a new assessment.

Miners Prepare To Stay In Pit

Forty-Three Hard Coal Miners Continue Strike 1,350 Feet Below Ground

(International News Service)

COALDALE, Pa., Oct. 7.—The 43 hard coal miners who began a sit-down strike Tuesday 1,350 feet below the surface of the Lehigh Navigation Coal company's colliery here today apparently were preparing to conduct a long siege.

Quantities of food, clothing, blankets and even recreational necessities were lowered to the men in a mine "cage". The strikers reiterated they will continue to occupy the colliery's eighth level until granted a wage equivalent to that received by workers employed on the level above them. Company officials refused to discuss an agreement until the men emerge from the mine.

Yesterday, the underground strikers listened to the world series game over a newly-installed radio.

Another thing that makes private profits seem unnecessary and wicked is to have a nice government job.

Dire Need For Volunteer Girl Scout Troop Leaders

Three Troops Not Able To Start Activities Due To Lack Of Leadership

There is dire need for Girl Scout leaders in this community. This volunteer leadership can put one in the way of travel, change, adventure; enlarge your circle of friends and interesting acquaintances, and give experience which will be an asset in getting and holding positions in the field of education and social work. To mothers who are interested in getting practical aid in the meeting of problems with their own children, this work is invaluable.

To win these rewards, you will need sensitiveness, imagination, generosity of spirit toward young people and two hours a week or as much more as you wish to give.

Need Adult Planner

Girl Scout troops are in the nature of self-governed clubs which need an older person to come along and help them plan interesting things to do—a variety of lively things having to do with home, health, nature and citizenship.

As an example, one troop of older girls has been working for some time on the garden flower badge. They have had people trained in their various lines talk to them on planting, propagating and arranging of flowers. They have been taken to greenhouses and they have planned and planted their own gardens.

Another troop of older girls is renovating the new Girl Scout headquarters. Every Saturday morning they go down there and work on the old furniture, taking off the old finish with sand paper and elbow grease and refinishing it. They have chosen the new rug and drapes and are making the latter.

These are just a few of the interesting things done in Girl Scout troops. Aside from this, there is the angle of helping our future mothers find themselves in the best way.

In one of the churches on the North Hill, there is a full troop of girls on the waiting list and has been for several years—waiting for leaders. These wistful children come and look on each week, but have to wait until someone drops out before they can get in one at a time.

Miss Christine Butler has been asking for a troop in the Neighborhood House for years and the council has tried hard to start one, but no leaders can be found.

Three Troops Leaderless

Three troops have not been able to start up this fall due to lack of leadership. One of these is comprised of the girls from the Margaret Henry Home. These girls enjoy scouting and make good scouts. It is their one outside interest. One went to Camp Phillips this summer and gained much thereby. Will not someone volunteer for this?

Any person interested in joining a training class for new leaders which will shortly be started, may do so by calling phone No. 1982, or registering at Girl Scout headquarters, 412 Greer building, any afternoon but Saturday.

AROUND CITY HALL

Traffic policemen are becoming mechanics, judging by the work they do on parking meter "caps" which become disarranged. According to reports, a nut in the machine now and then becomes loose. Not many slugs are being placed in the machines. So far the city has realized about $3,500 from the meters. Within the near future the city will figure the cost of installation, deduct this amount from the total revenue placed in the machines then pay the company 85 per cent and retain 15 per cent. Four hundred and thirty-four meters were installed up to yesterday. Approximately $500 weekly has been realized for every six days parking.

Police department has been short recently and detectives have helped to guard children crossing streets intersections in school lanes.

Repairs to non-residential buildings last month amounted to $35,860, while new construction cost $21,385. Repairs to a dwelling cost $1,000.

Very few auto accidents have occurred within the city so far this week. Several persons were hurt in collisions last week.

Police car No. 1 travelled 2,394 miles; No. 2 went 2,175 miles, and No. 3 was operated 1,507 miles, during September. The motorcycle was operated 1,180 miles, according to police statistics.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

Letters intended for this column must be signed with name and address of writer.

October 5, 1937.

The New Castle News,
Mr. Fred Rentz, President.
Dear Mr. Rentz:—

On behalf of myself, Superintendent Gibson, and the board of directors of the City Rescue Mission, we wish to thank you and Mr. Conway and Bruce Ewing of the New Castle News for its generous cooperation during the 25th anniversary of the City Rescue Mission.

Yours in Him,
A. W. GIBSON,
Superintendent.

New Castle, Pa.
October 6, 1937.

New Castle News,
City.
Dear Editor:

We noticed recently in your paper of the proposed removal of the death house at Rockview, Bellefonte, to be moved to Mt. Gretna.

As Pennsylvania is one of the states that hold out for capital punishment, it is unpleasant to think of any person who has to lose his or her life for going against the will of God,—here is what the good book says: And he that killeth any man shall surely be put to death. Lev. 24-17.

In a great many cases convicted persons, try to pass as insane. Sure there is insanity when Satan once gets hold of one to commit the rash act and are caught, and placed in a dark cell,—here is where insanity starts, and not through inheritance. Ignorance will not excuse any one in our courts.

Here are the states that have abolished capital punishment. Kansas, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Rhode Island and Wisconsin.

The states that hang are California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Iowa, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, New Hampshire, Oregon, Washington, West Virginia Wyoming and the District of Columbia.

Utah, hangs or shoots prisoners by choice; Nevada uses lethal gas; all other states use the electric chair.

Sincerely,
G. D. GLOSNER,
Rural No. 3.

Crops In State Need Moisture

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—Pennsylvania crops need moisture, the U. S. Department of Agriculture explained today in its weekly synopsis of weather and crop conditions.

Moderate rains occurred in a few small regions during the week, but the rainfall was light in fully three-fourths of the state, and the top soil is very dry, the report added. Seeding of winter grain is delayed in many places, in hopes of rain, but is being finished rapidly.

"Potato digging is in progress with yields mostly good," read the report. "There are a few complaints of small potatoes, but otherwise the quality seems to be excellent. The crop as a whole is making a good showing.

"Apple gathering is in full swing, and the crop seems to be better than the average in both yield and quality. Peaches are all gathered, and the crop as a whole is the best for the last three or four years. Pears seem to be about an average crop."

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Fifth Women's Cooperative House Opens At Westminster

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 7.—The fifth women's cooperative house has been opened at Westminster college, and is known officially as Mack Lodge.

The house, completely remodelled, accommodates fifteen upperclass women. Interior wood work in Mack Lodge is cream-colored, with soft tan wall finishings. Stairways and halls are carpeted in dark red. Kitchen equipment is ultra-modern.

Seventy-eight Westeminster men and women reside in cooperative lodges, which were begun six years ago by Mrs. David Ritchie, at present housemother at the "Ritz Carlton" lodge, as it is affectionately called by its lodgers. Mrs. Ritchie's idea in beginning the cooperative houses was to reduce the cost of living and allow students to attend college who would otherwise be deprived of the experience.

In 1932, two women's cooperatives were opened under the supervision of Mrs. Ritchie, with 22 girls in her charge. In 1933, two more lodges were opened for eighteen upperclass women. The same year, the first men's cooperative was begun, with ten men living in the "Ritz-Carlton", located north of the Hillside. In 1934, the second men's cooperative was opened as "Kelly Barracks", with Mrs. A. A. McDonald in charge.

With the opening of this year 32 freshman women are residing in campus lodges, eight upperclass women in senior lodge, and fifteen in the new Mack Lodge. Ten men have been assigned to the Ritz Carlton, and twelve to Kelly Barracks. All seven cooperative houses are owned and sponsored by the college.

Under a competent housemother for each house, work is planned so that each student participates in the cooking, cleaning, marketing, meal-planning, and dish-washing. Approximately a third is cut from the student's expenses for room and board by the cooperative idea.

The unpopular person could become popular, but Alas! he blames public taste instead of trying to change.

Italy Will Not Attend Parley

Mussolini Angered At Denunciation Of War Makers By Roosevelt

ALSO RESENTS MOVE CONDEMNING JAPAN

By FRANK GERVASI
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROME, Oct. 7.—Angered by the American denunciation of Japan and "international lawlessness", the Italian government probably will boycott the proposed nine power conference on the Sino-Japanese war, it was learned today. Italy is a signatory to the nine power treaty.

Rome is expected to take the attitude the parley was proposed by the League of Nations, which is boycotted by Italy, and that hence Italy must ignore the conference.

The Italian government will refuse all dealings with the league until it recognizes Premier Mussolini's conquest of Ethiopia.

Not Anti-Japanese.

Furthermore, officials pointed out, Il Duce under present circumstances will "never take a step which might be interpreted as anti-Japanese."

Fascist circles openly hinted a boycott of American goods by Italy may result from President Roosevelt's Chicago peace speech condemning warlike nations. At the same time, the American indictment of Japan as a war maker and treaty breaker aroused bitter resentment here.

It was stated Il Duce and Chancellor Hitler have decided to give full backing to Japan's "anti-bolshevist" drive in China.

Mussolini was reported intensely angry over the president's Chicago speech, which he considers aimed at Italy and Germany as well as Japan.

Further expression of Il Duce's ire was seen in his failure to receive American Legionnaires visiting Rome and in his order to his son, Vittorio, to return home immediately from the United States.

Council Discusses Installation Costs Of Parking Meters

Report Cost Of Installing Each Meter $4.31 Instead Of Forecasted $2

During council meeting at the city building today it was made clear that parking meters which were installed here were not bought, but were installed on trial, and, should the meters not function properly, they will not be accepted.

This was stated not only by Mayor Charles E. McGrath but by Finance Director James L. Fink after it had been reported that the installation of each meter had cost $4.31, instead of $2 as anticipated. Council expects the parking meter company to pay for the installation.

When the contract, authorizing the purchase and installation of meters was signed, it had been anticipated that the installation cost would be $2, which the company agreed to pay to the city, providing the city installed the meters, which the city did.

When Finance Director James L. Fink and City Engineer Glenn R. Throop today reported statistics concerning the meters Mayor Charles E. McGrath expressed the opinion that the company would bear the installation cost of $4.31, instead of the anticipated $2.

It was also made clear to Councilman Joseph D. Alexander by the mayor that no city employe repairs meters which go wrong. He said the city employes merely replace the heads or caps. Any repair, he stated, is a function for the company and he said there has been no dispute concerning this.

In answer to another question by Councilman Alexander, the mayor stated that the department of police has been keeping a record of the heads or caps (which contain the mechanism) which become disarranged. New heads or caps for replacements are now enroute to this city, the mayor explained.

During the discussion Councilman B. F. Butler reasserted his opinion that the city had "bought" the wrong meter; meaning that another meter should have been put in on trial. This statement drew a quick retort from Mayor McGrath who declared the meters were not yet bought.

Mayor McGrath declared that the meters have been installed only on a six months trial to which Councilman James L. Fink added: "If they do not make good (the meters) they will go out." The mayor corroborated Fink's declaration.

Council took no action to pay the parking meter company their share of collections amounting to $3,568.55, pending an adjustment of the installation cost. However, the mayor expressed the opinion there would be no difficulty in securing this.

Jacob Cosel Is 80 Today; Family Here For Reunion

Jacob Cosel, widely known secretary of the Elks club here, is celebrating his 80th birthday today.

From near and distant cities came his sons and his daughter to join their father for the happy occasion and to remain with him through Friday. Tonight a family dinner will be enjoyed in honor of his birthday and tomorrow, after Temple Israel's customary service, the children will be hosts in his honor during the regular social hour.

Mr. Cosel was born in Neuenburg, Prussia, and he came to America and direct to New Castle in 1874. He came to live at that time with his oldest brother, Max, whose home was on North street.

"How's it feel on the eve of an 80th birthday?" a reporter asked Mr. Cosel, and he replied: "Well, you know there isn't any strange feeling about it because by now you're getting accustomed to birthdays."

Maintains Daily Routine

At the Elks club yesterday Mr. Cosel went through his customary office routine and today he'll probably do the same thing. Righ now he and his fellow members are making preparations for the 50th anniversary of the local lodge and that's keeping them busy.

Besides being active in the Elks, Mr. Cosel has been a member of the Knights of Pythias for over 50 years and for 53 years he has been a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

Here for the birthday reunion at the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Cosel, 1201 North Mercer street, where he makes his home, are Mr. and Mrs. Nathan J. Cosel, Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Max Cosel, Steubenville, O., and Mrs. Leon C. Fox, a resident of Los Angeles.

Irish Evangelist Interesting Many

Miss May Decker, the Irish evangelist, was heard by another interested crowd in the Christian and Missionary Alliance Tabernacle Wednesday night, when she had for her subject, "How Long Are You Slack?"

Mrs. Howard Duff and Mrs. Joseph Jenkins sang "When I Said the Last Yes to Jesus," and Mrs. John Wink and Mrs. Avery Rigby sang "Have Thine Own Way, Lord," during the musical interludes of the evening.

Prayer meetings at 7 o'clock each evening precede Miss Decker's messages.

Hanger, former local scout commissioner, will act as director and will be in the headquarters, Room 412 Greer Building, each day from 12 to 5 p. m., except Saturday when she will be there only during the morning from 9 o'clock to 12.

Mrs. Hanger has been a volunteer worker in New Castle scouting for over ten years. She knows the work thoroughly, and will go ahead with the program until November 1, when Miss LeFevre expects to be able to return.

New troop leaders are going to Sharon to receive their leadership training from Mrs. Katherine Robb, itinerant director from Cumberland, Md., who is located in Sharon at the present time. County Principals Meet Wednesday Eve

Many Important Matters Are Discussed At Largely Attended Meeting

New school legislation and a program for the year were discussed a length at the October meeting of the Lawrence County Principals Association, in the office of County Superintendent of Schools, John C. Syling, Wednesday evening, when every district in the county was represented.

Mr. Syling explained the provisions of the new 44-hour week for men, which becomes effective December 1. He also gave a resume of the program for the County Institute in Union high school, October 21, and of the Mid-Western District convention in The Cathedral, October 22. Provisions of the new fire drill law and flag code law were given.

Donald E. Cole, principal of Princeton high school was named chairman of the next meeting, when student councils will be discussed as the principal theme. It was decided to devote one meeting during the year to high school entrance examination discussion.

Mrs. Esther McCracken, of New Castle, rendered several lovely vocal selections. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Mable Craven. Miss Anna Laughlin also contributed some beautiful piano selections to the program.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Jap Boycott Held Unlikely

Universal Action Needed To Carry Out Step Is Seen As Impossible

WOULD HAVE TO BE VOLUNTARY

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Japan cannot be economically boycotted by the remainder of the world, or any considerable part of it, by virtue of governmental action in the boycotting countries.

Diplomatic authorities generally are agreed upon this point.

Germany and Italy are so dictatorially ruled that their populations might be officially forbidden to trade with Nippon. However, neither Berlin nor Rome can reasonably be expected to issue such orders; in the main they are in sympathy with the Japanese.

Doubtless Stalin, in Moscow, could do it.

But no democratic government could.

Under our neutrality law, Washington could prevent or greatly restrict American shipments to Japan but it has no legal power to keep Americans from buying Japanese goods.

EFFECTIVENESS DOUBTED

An international boycott against Japan, therefore, would have to be of an informal, popular, voluntary character.

Could it be made effective on that basis?

It is doubtful.

Perhaps it could be organized, but certainly it would take a tremendous effort of worldwide proportions.

CHINA'S BOYCOTT

If possible, unquestionably it would count ruinously against the mikado.

It is a weapon which was, in fact, tellingly used by the Chinese against Japan shortly after the World war—not, of course, in international fashion, but as a popularly wielded Chinese thrust at the islanders.

That is to say, China had no backers, but, by the boycott method, it brought Japan temporarily to terms.

HAW IT'S DONE

China's foreign buying is done through a group of brokers at its ports of entry—as is every country's.

In China, however, these brokers are a particularly compact group—a guild known in "pidgin" (or "business") English as "compradores". A comprador", approximately, is a Chinese credit man. His commercial importance is tremendous.

Parenthetically:

I take the "pidgin" term "comprador" to be derived from the Portuguese at Macao—"comprar"; to buy.

CHANGE OF TACTICS

Anyhow, in the emergency referred to, China's "compradores" refused to buy another cent's worth of products from Japan.

The Japanese government raised heck with the Chinese government because the Chinese "compradores" refusal to do any more buying from Japan. The Chinese government was scared. It wanted its "compradores" to buy—but how compel a prospective buyer to buy?

That time the mikado's campaign frazzled out. It did not work commercially.

Now he is trying it with aerial bombs.

SUCCESS UNLIKELY

Naturally not only are the Chinese infuriated, but all civilized peoples ar outraged.

But what are they going to do about it?

Try an anti-Japanese boycott?

The Chinese "compradores" made a boycott stick, but they were a very cohesive body, and highly patriotic.

But that an international boycott can be made to hold water—that is problematic.

Green Plans To Call Meeting

State Republican Chairman Will Summon All Executive Committeemen

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 7.—State Republican Chairman G. Edward Green today disclosed he planned to call a meeting of the executive committee shortly to act upon the crusaders' report, outline party policy and discuss finances.

The chairman, following a series of conferences with party leaders over the week-end, told International News Service the meeting of the executive committee may be postponed until after the November 2 elections.

Will Contact Leaders

"In that event," he said, "I will contact party leaders individually and then announce a statement of policy on the constitutional amendments to be voted on November 2."

Green said copies of the crusaders' report, which repudiated former party leadership and called for a "new deal," were distributed to members of the state committee and other Republican leaders.

The report was presented to the Altoona reorganization meeting of the Republican state committee on September 25 with the stipulation that it be acted upon by the executive committee in 30 days.

Blame Wrecks On Drinking

Say Alcohol Present At Majority Of Accidents In Cleveland District

CLEVELAND, Oct. 7.—A study of alcoholic consumption in relation to traffic fatalities showed more than 100 of the 217 persons killed in traffic in Cuyahoga county during the first eight months of this year were under the influence of alcohol, Coroner Samuel R. Gerber reported today.

His survey findings, based on tests of body fluids, revealed also: That six out of every 10 pedestrian victims, constituting 74.2 per cent of the total fatality list, showed traces of intoxicants.

That 50 per cent of automobile drivers and more than half of automobile passengers killed were similarly under the effects of alcohol.

Of the 169 men killed, 65.8 per cent were found to be under the influence of liquor at the time of accidents. Alcoholism was present in 21.7 per cent of the women victims.

It is surpirsing how much dust accumulates on the books in the different offices of the court house. Especially is this true in the register and recorder's office, where there are hundreds of deed, mortgage and other volumes. There are also hundreds of books in the prothonotary's office, containing judgments, marriage licenses and other court records. These books are all on open shelves, and must be constantly cleaned. As fast as the janitress gets over them once, she must start again.

In an opinion handed down by Judge W. Walter Braham in the case of F. W. Hall, G. M. Arp, Theodore Allmire, and Harvey Sumney against Steve Rosashan and Caroline Smrdley, motion for a new trial and for judgement notwithstanding the verdict are both refused. The case is one in which the plaintiffs claimed wrongful eviction from a coal lease and the termination of a bailment lease for equepment of a coal mine. The defense, as to Caroline Smrdley, was, that although she was one of the owners of the mine, she had not signed the five year lease, nor had she given any written authority to Steve Rosashan to sign for her. Steve's defense was that the plaintiffs had abandoned the property and the lease was in default; also that he had executed a forfeiture. At the conclusion of the case a verdict was directed in favor of Caroline Smrdley, on the grounds that before she was liable on a lease for land held in common, she must have authorized the signing of the lease. The case was submitted to the jury on the plaintiff's claim against Rosashan and a verdict rendered for $2,398.90.

Westminster Prepares To Entertain Large Host Of Alumni

Home-Coming At Westminster

Saturday Will See Large Number Of Graduates Returning To Campus

FOOTBALL GAME DURING AFTERNOON

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 7—Saturday, October 9, has been set for Westminster college's Homecoming day, with an alumni-student chapel in the morning and the California Teachers-Titan football game in the afternoon as high spots.

Several hundred "grads" are expected back to attend the special alumni-student chapel at 11 o'clock, with John Miller, '23, Pittsburgh attorney, president of the alumni association, and Frank Scott, Cleveland attorney, as the leading speakers. Music, consisting of the college band and alumni musicians, will be under the direction of Prof. Alan B. Davis.

No Classes Saturday.

With no classes on Saturday, the morning will be devoted to W. A. A. sports, including an alumni and all-college stars hockey game and an archery contest. Women participating in the all-college archery contest will be Pauline Bruce, Ruth Dambach, Margaret Diehl, Evelyn Retzer, Evelyn Chambers, Evelyn Hunt, Helen Stevenson, Mildred Varner, Jeanne McCully, Audrey Manning and Mary Hewitt.

At 12:30 an alumni luncheon will be served in Browne hall, with additional sorority luncheons. The Titan-Teachers game is called for 2 o'clock, when the Westminster team will make its first home appearance of the season, and Captain John Susko, veteran tackle, will toss for the kickoff.

Following the game, an alumni tea will be served in Browne hall at 4:30, and at 8 in the evening an all-college and alumni party will be staged in the gymnasium. Open house will be held at dinner time, 6 o'clock, in fraternity houses and college dormitories for visiting alumni who have made reservations.

"Cleveland Caravan."

Several special groups of alumni from nearby cities are expected. Ten automobiles, forming the "Cleveland caravan", will arrive Saturday morning under the leadership of Eugene Carr, class of 1925, radio-program director of station WGAR, Cleveland. Under the direction of John Miller, Pittsburgh, another Allegheny county group is expected to make the trip.

In the morning chapel, Coaches Grover Washabaugh, Dick Kelleher and Dave Boyd, all new this year, will be introduced to the alumni, and a special introduction will be given to members of the football squad.

At the game, Psi Nu, women's journalistic sorority, will introduce a new tradition for football games, by selling blue and white gas-filled balloons to students and visitors. The balloons are to be held until the first Titan touchdown, and then released.

Under the direction of Prof. Donald Cameron, the Westminster band will perform special homecoming tricks on the field, and march during the half in various letter-formations.

Titans Hopeful.

Although the Titans started the season with a 22-0 loss against the Bethany Bisons in West Virginia, Coach Washabaugh hopes to stage a home-town comeback against the California Teachers, who shared a 0-0 tie with Edinboro Teachers Saturday. Coach "Wild Bill" Steers' California pedagogues will be a hard aggregation to beat, however, with 14 lettermen and a forward wall that will average close to 200 pounds.

Coach Washabaugh's tentative lineup for the homecoming game will be Pfau and Miller at ends, Captain Susko and Mamula at tackles, Ruefle and Youkers, guards, and Throup, center. In the backfield, probable starters will be Laposki at quarter, Valicenti and Shoup at the halfback posts and Wright at full.

The job of the week for Titan coaches, Washabaugh, Kelleher and Boyd, is to strengthen the forward wall, and build up a stronger pass-defense than prevailed against the Bisons last Saturday.

Average Day In Life Of Westminster Co-Ed

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 7.—What makes up the average day in the life of a co-ed in such a school as Westminster College? Here is one version:

6:45—She awakes joyfully with a smile; then remembering her French is still undone, relaxes into a groan and a downcast face.

7:15—Skips into breakfast chatting cheerily, after a fifteen minutes struggle with French, for a glass of orange juice, a slice of buttered toast, and a cup of black coffee.

7:45—Strides to class ten minutes early to get a front row seat in English class, in order to make a good impression on the instructor.

8:00—Takes notes vigorously, listens attentively, and yet manages to show an interest in the personable young man on her left.

8:55—Free period, when Miss Co-ed goes to the library to study, back to her room to change her scarf, or to the collegiate eating place to small-talk with her sorority sisters.

10:45—Chapel. She sings, refuses to cut, and glares professionally at the squirmers.

12:10—Lunch. Back to the dormitory to eat according to whether she worships a size 16 or bows at the altar of fudge cake and Dutch apple pie.

2:00—Studies in the library until 4 o'clock, and then to the athletic field.

4:00-5:00—Runs around with a hockey club after a small white object, shoots arrows over the top of a bulls-eye, or kicks a Pi Chi-Pi in the shins at a soccer game.

7:00—Strolls past the college hang-out after dinner in the hopes that someone in the stag-line will take notice of her and remember a week-end house party . . . all of this without turning her head to the right or left.

7:30—Back to the dormitory after a stroll to study for astronomy, English and history.

10:00—The inevitable "bull session" or "gab-fest" about colthes, morals, religion, professors, or what have you.

11:00—To bed, to get that coveted eight hours sleep so necessary to "good complexion, vitality, and charm," coveted by Miss Co-ed.

CELEBRATION EVENT AT DAVIES HOME

As an avenue of celebrating her own birthday anniversary, Mrs. O. J. Davies of Martin street invited a group of friends to be her dinner guests, little suspecting they had knowledge of her purpose, thus showering her with many pretty gifts. The event took place Wednesday, and shortly after the noon hour Mrs. Davies served a delicious dinner at a table appointed in keeping with the season. Pink and white tones predominated, and a large birthday cake was prominently placed.

Another surprise was tendered the hostess when the mail man delivered a stack of cards, many coming from relatives and friends in distant and surrounding vicinities, this taking place while the party was in progress. Informal pastimes filled in the leisure hours.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Albert Weaver of Lucinda, Pa., and Etta Cunningham of Michigan, who are visiting in New Castle.

The hours were enjoyably spent with games, sewing and conversation. Those capturing prizes, were Mrs. Raymond Reed, Mrs. Anthony Frank and Mrs. Raymond Burgo. The serving of a delicious repast, concluded the informal program.

Many beautiful gifts were presented to the two honored members by those at the party. Mrs. Turner, assisted by Miss Elizabeth Lewis, later served a delicious luncheon. The table was centered by an attractive birthday cake.

A very interesting little skit, written by Hazel Anne Mark, Gladys Stickle and Georgiana Truby, bringing out the many good points of Girl Reserve membership, was presented. Others taking part in the program were Betty Reed, Gladys Brown, Shirley Robson and June Auble.

Tree Protruding Into Cartway Is Ordered Removed

Several Other Trees Reported As Extending Out Into Cartway Of Streets

Councilmen convened at the city building today and ordered that a large tree, the base of which protrudes 18 inches into the cartway of North Beaver street, between Falls and Grant street be removed, because, according to the solons it is a menace to traffic. It was also indicated that all trees which protrude into thoroughfares also be removed.

Some days ago council received a bill from Herbert Hake, Walmo, for damages to his auto which Hake said struck the tree. Today they received a report that an auto driven by L. E. Mott had struck the same tree, only more recently. Council filed the reports, pending proof of the accident but ordered that the tree be removed.

It was reported that a tree in Highland avenue, near Wallace avenue, protrudes into the street and another report was made by council that a tree in Albert street near Garfield avenue is causing a raise in the sidewalk. Council also said that some action should be taken relative to trees at the corner of Grant and Mercer streets.

Japanese Deny Any Violations

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The Japanese embassy issued a statement today denying that Japan's invasion and bombing of defenseless Chinese cities is in violation of the nine-power and Kellogg-Briand peace treaties.

"As the Japanese government has repeatedly made clear, its course in China has nothing to do with the two treaties; its actions are in no way inconsistent with the treaties," said Counselor Yakashiro Suma.

Nobody yet knows what the League and America will do about Japan except that America will be the goat.

No Trade Ever Dies Out Wholly

Humans Have Instinct For Keeping Alive Wierd Skill In Crafts

LEWIS AND DAVIS CHAT IN WELSH

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—No trade or craft ever dies out wholly. The human race has an instinct for keeping alive skill or knowledge, however weird. Manhattan, for example, has one shop that does nothing but repair mediaeval armor. Also there are six wig and peruke factories.

O. O. McIntyre

Out on Long Island is a shop that makes swords, hand forged and chased, and there are times when it works night and day. In New Jersey five or six men make a living as fletchers, or arrow makers. So the ancient art of falconry still exists hereaouts.

The gentlemen of the fancy fly their tiercels at Brewster, N. Y. every now and then, the birds properly hooded and belled, riding on the gloved wrist. The only real monopoly I know is that of an old man in the south of England who has a quarry in which he chips flints.

He sells them to a tribe of Arabs in the Sahara, who, after four centuries of improvements in warfare, still won't use anything but the old flint-lock muskets. They cling to the discarded reasoning that anything good enough for their ancestors is good enough for them.

Massive-headed, burly John L. Lewis is frequently a stroller in the late afternoon avenue parade when in town. Whenever he meets Senator John F. Davis they chatter awhile in Welsh, just to keep in practice. Another who talks the Welsh language is the ambassador to Russia, Joseph Davies, whose mother was a famed Welsh preacher, known as Rachel O'Fon or Rachel of Anglessa, gifted with poetic fire and oratory.

A friend on East End avenue has a Japanese cook who, being a Buddhist, talks gently to food before he cooks it, whether a leg of lamb or a bowl of shrimps. This way he assuages the spirits of the once frolicsome lamb or sedate shrimps. After a dinner a notch under par the other evening, my friend apologized to guests by saying: "Somehow I don't think Kado was on speaking terms with the food tonight." Incidentally, Japanese are steady patrons of the better Chinese restaurants, for they regard the cuisine as classical, just as we do the French. Art is always art, no matter how badly governments get along with each other.

Three of the town's biggest book shops recently had window displays of Kipling's works. He is greater than ever. Queen Mary is heading a $1,250,000 fund to raise a memorial to Kipling, who while alive was never honored with knighthood or the Poet Laureateship. Some aver because of the reference to the "Widow of Windsor." Others think because of certain biting and Elizabethian poems to be found only among private collectors.

And English novelists used to come here for flying lecture trips, but now elect to stay and live. Aldous Huxley and J. B. Priestly, for example, who like Somerset Maugham and the late John Galsworthy, prefer the southwest. Huxley went to stay at Frieda Lawrence's ranch near Taos, New Mexico, but, finding it had no bath, hurriedly left for Denver, where he sojourns impatiently until Frieda has a bath installed on her place.

Musing: So far as I can discover, the only butterflies in New York are found in Washington Square and they rarely wander out of that peaceful zone. In Washington Square the busses going up and down with mathematical precision, are reminded of the late Stella Benson's thought that the busses are the up-and-down weights on the clock of Manhattan, keeping the old town eternally wound up!

Thingumbobs: Mrs. Martin Johnson, soon to wed again, intends to make her present trip her last to the jungle wilds. . . . George Gershwin's royalty income for his mother will average $30.000 yearly . . . Eugene O'Neill was born in a hotel in Times Square.

The dreariest purlieu of New York is still Brooklyn's Red Hook district, but it's not as tough as it used to be. Once there were dock workers, who upended newsboys to shake nickels out of their pants for a scuttle of beer. It was in Red Hook that someone coined the simile: So tough he bought himself a second-hand electric chair to relax in.

HONOR MEMORY OF MRS. GREER

Tribute To The Memory Of Mrs. Charles Greer Paid At Reading Circle

At the meeting of the Reading Circle this week, a tribute to the memory of Mrs. Grace Marquis Greer, widow of Charles Greer, who had been honorary president at the time of her death which occurred recently, was paid by Mrs. Laura Parker.

The deep loss that is felt by the Circle was summarized in the following words by Mrs. Parker:

"A great sorrow has befallen our Reading Circle in the passing of our beloved Honorary President and friend, Grace Marquis Greer.

"It is fitting that we now pause to offer a tribute of love and respect to her memory. While we deeply deplore the loss of our friend and coworker, we give thanks for the long years we were privileged to enjoy her fellowship, the memory of which shall abide with us always and be a beacon light ever directing and guiding aright.

"Each one of us feels the richer for contact with her spirit of friendliness and her depth of vision.

"We feel great pride in her achievements as a leader in every good enterprise of the community and her untiring efforts to raise the standards to a high level.

"Through her efforts, our city and nation are better places in which to live.

"Her conception of the duties of a citizen was of the highest.

"She had a keen appreciation of art, music and nature, and devoted a great part of her time to community interests.

"Her uprightness of character and spirit of true friendliness endeared her to all and was a standard toward which we should all strive.

"Her vision, courage, and constructive ability have been largely responsible for the success of our Reading Circle.

"In her passing we have lost one of our staunchest and most loyal members. Each one of us has profited by her friendship.

"Let us strive to honor her memory by endeavoring to be better club members, better neighbors, and better citizens, and in our feeble way carry on the work she has laid down."

Secluded Grove Of Trees Near Mill And Washington Corner Will Be Cut Down

In order to build more space into the storeroom next to the Citizens bank on Washington street, workmen will within a few days put up their tools to work cutting down New Castle's "private" downtown grove of trees. Included in this grove of trees which are carefully secluded in a walled-off section between the bank building and other surrounding structures, are two landmarks.

Old timers can perhaps remember these trees, as it has been told by pioneer residents of this city, that Perry Maitland formerly conducted a grocery business on the corner of Mill and Washington streets. These two trees were at the back door of his establishment and one of them was used, according to the story, to tie his horse and wagon to while he was in the store.

When other buildings were erected on this site, the landowner could not bear to see the trees go, and therefore built a wall around this section. This little section has been hidden from the rest of the city for many years as no door was provided in the wall, and there was no way to gain access to the trees.

During the years that this place has been hidden, other trees have grown up and the total now makes about 20 trees within 40 feet of the corner of Mill and Washington streets, right in the heart of the business district of New Castle.

These buildings are now being remodeled by workmen and one side of the wall around the trees has been torn down. According to those in charge of the work the trees will all be removed within a short time and the storeroom built out into the space that has been filled by the trees.

The story about hitching the horse to the tree is evidently true, because one looking closely at the tree, the largest in the grove, will see marks completely around it where some kind of a chain, rope or other fastening device has worn marks on the tree.

Within this walled section the ground is a rich black loam, with a very soft crust on top. No other vegetation other than the trees is growing here, evidently because of lack of sunshine from the outside world.

Maybe the good just seem to die young because the ones we don't like seem to stick around longer than necessary.

TAKE WEIGHT OFF TIRED FEET

Lose Fat The Easy Way — Without Starvation Diets, or Back-Breaking, Bending and Rolling Exercises.

If your feet and ankles feel tired and ache all over — because you are carrying too much fat — do something about it. Try the treatment that has helped millions to reduce excess weight.

There's a reason why so many people find dieting slow and often times futile in reducing. The reason, doctors say, is often because a little gland is not working right.

All the blood in your body goes through this tiny gland sixteen times every day. If it doesn't pour into the blood stream about one and one-half drops of vital fluid every 24 hours, many people take on ugly fat. This fluid helps Nature to "burn up" excess food and fatty tissue in much the same way as a good "draft" acts in a furnace.

Now, physicians combat this condition by feeding this gland the substance it lacks — and millions of pounds of excess fat has been wiped out in this way.

Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on the same method used by doctors. So don't waste your time or money striving to reduce with starvation diets or back-breaking exercises. Start the Marmola treatment today that millions have used successfully to get rid of excess fat. The formula is in every box so you know just what you are taking. Don't wait — get a box of Marmola today from your druggist.

Cliff Melton Will Try Handcuffing Of Yankee Team Today

Giant Freshman Hurler Wants To Get Revenge On Yanks For Giving Him Gate

Yanks Confident In Second Game, Will Probably Pitch Red Ruffing

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—With dull, unseeing gaze, as though unable to quite comprehend the full enormity of it all, the New York Giants shook off yesterday's disaster as best they might and came out swinging today for the second game of the 1937 world series with the New York Yankees. The Giants were like the guy in the tap room who has been bashed with the bottle. The only thing he can lose by trying again is complete consciousness.

They're going to pitch Cliff Melton, the left-handed hurler from the corn pone section of North Carolina, and if they fail with him, they fail utterly. This young man with ears like a setter dawg won 20 games during the National League season, he seems to have everything, including the alert look of an inquiring burro—and an enduring "hex" against the Yankees.

Wants Revenge

They had him once. They didn't want him. So Clifford has vowed to get "hunk." While he's about that particular bit of business, the Yankees plan to give him a scathing that will make those large, red ears tingle and throb. So, if you learn that some of our more earnest athletes are rolling about on the greensward today, do not call the cops. It'll be only Cliff Melton trying to convince the Yanks that they made a mistake.

They made none yesterday. In fact, they practically won the series with their seven-run rally in the sixth inning against Carl Hubbell to finally win by 8-1. I say they practically won, because, if the Giants can't win with Hubbell, they'll never win without him.

Maybe Five Games

Therefore, the indications were that the series would be over in a minimum of five games and a maximum of six. A bare chance that the Giants saw before them was the possibility that today's game might be forced over into tomorrow, giving Hubbell an extra day in which to compose himself for another joust with the jolters from the American League.

The weather, in brief, was cited as being "threatening and cooler." In one sense, that isn't the Giants at all; in another, it is. They were much cooler after Mr. V. McGoofer-ty Gomez gave them the chill with a six-hit game. In any case, the Giants do not seem to be threatening in the least, especially with Red Ruffing coming up to pitch the second game today.

Banjo Hitters

If the Red one is right, and he most certainly was the last time out, he'll give the Giants as much pitching as they can show, with the situation ultimately narrowing down to this: Giant ineffectually versus concentrated power—or banjos against bludgeons. The Giants keep talking about their tight defense, but you can't defend Vicksburg with a banjo.

This was never better illustrated than in the fifth and sixth innings yesterday. In the fifth, the Giants got one run on three hits. In the sixth, the Yanks got seven runs on five hits.

There may be something to add to that, notably in the case of Gus Mancuso hitting into the ground for a double play and Hubbell himself failing by a foot to deliver a double in the pinch. But somehow you felt that, no matter what happened, Hubbell would have to pitch a shutout in order to win. In other words, he'd have to stop the Yanks altogether or yield the ball game. The Yankees evidently felt the same way.

Officials For Game Announced

The New Castle-Washington high class AA football engagement here Friday night is going to be well handled, according to the list of very efficient officials, made public today by Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner.

The referee will be Earl Cavanaugh, the umpire will be Dex Very, and the linesman Yans Wallace. Three of the best in the Pittsburgh district. Last year Very was one of the Rose Bowl officials at Pasadena, Calif., when the Panthers chewed Washington to pieces.

Bill Chip Is Good Prospect

Bill Chip, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Chip, 108 Phillips Place, is reputed as being one of the most promising prospects on the Freshman squad at Duquesne University, Pittsburgh.

Chip, 18 years old, weighing 175, proved a stellar performer at New Castle high. He is a quarterback. During his high school days, Chip was president of his class and an honor student.

Backfield Is Chief Worry

Offense Is Biggest Worry For Bridenbaugh, Mumeyak Is Likely Starter

HARD GAME FACED ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh's chief worry now is the backfield problem. Faced with the prospect of meeting Washington High here on Friday night, the "Red Hurricane" needs an offensive attack.

One of the doubtful boys in the New Castle backfield is this lad "Kit" Mumeyak, a track man of note, but a little green at the grid game right now. There are a few things about backfielding that Mumeyak has to learn yet, and then watch this lad go. He is the fastest man on the New Castle team but just lacks that fitness that spells a starter in the "Red Hurricane" lineup. He is a little weak on defense, but his offensive work has shown a marked improvement.

Very Few Changes

The backfield for the Washington High game is about the same as it has been, with this boy Lauro at fullback. The halves will be Sovesky and Micaletti or Mumeyak and Gender at the blocking half post.

The only change on the line may be Piccutta for Kulnis at guard and probably Fraser for Carey at an end berth. Piccutta is the fastest of the two guard contenders and may get the starting spot over the former Ben Franklin lad.

Meantime, Washington High is hard at work this week planning on the New Castle invasion, and they think that maybe they can take the Castles to town this year. They have won four straight down in Washing and are rather confident that New Castle will be victim number five. This will be the fourth Class AA battle for New Castle and the first for Washington High.

The game will start at 8 o'clock.

Bessemer Primed For Evans City

Game Is Scheduled For Bessemer Field, Friday Afternoon At 3 O'clock

Reported to be in good physical condition following last week's brusing tussle with Ursuline high, Bessemer high schools football team is primed for Friday afternoon when Evans City high invades Bessemer field.

Bessemer boosted its gridiron stocks way high last week by recording a 9-6 victory over the Ohio eleven. The followers of the Cement City eleven are "goo goo" about their club and are talking about another Class B title this season.

Mrs. Opan S. Hill of Kansas City, and Mrs. Charles Newbold, of Wichita, lead field in women's national golf championship tourney at Memphis, Tenn.

Wesleyan Star

WILLIAM (BILL) CICCONE

Of New Castle, Pa., who is one of the big guns on the forward wall at West Virginia Wesleyan college this year. Ciccone cracked the starting lineup with the initial game of the season and is proving one of the toughest men on the Bobcat squad at right guard. Many so-called experts have already declared Ciccone has the makings of one of the school's finest all-time gridsters.

Giants Riled Over Umpiring

Claim That Umpire Ormsby Refuses To Give Hubbell Break With Low Ball

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 7—If the Yankees, champions of the world and kings of all the baseball they survey, were willing to admit it, they probably would tell you today that they were extremely lucky to be holding a one to nothing edge in games over the Giants in the world series.

The Giants, slightly riled, readily admit that they got none the best of it in the opening game yesterday. Their complaint is that Emmet Ormsby, being an American League umpire, won't call a low strike—the kind Hubbell pitches around a batter's knees.

As proof of their argument the Giants point to the ludricous fact that Lefty Gomez, a notoriously crude artisan at the plate, even for a pitcher, equalled the world series record yesterday by drawing two bases on balls in that sixth inning which gave the Yankees an 8 to 1 victory.

Umpire Gets Blamed

Hubbell had pitched five superb innings. Then all of a sudden, the world crashed down around his ears—and the Giants insist that Umpire Ormsby is at least partly to blame.

Gus Mancuso, Giant catcher, pulled no punches—and at the same time quite obviously attempted no alibi—in saying that Hubbell's low stuff was brushed off by Ormsby as balls, when strikes should have been called.

"Those American League umpires are not used to low ball pitching like we get at the polo grounds with the stands crowded right down on the foul lines, making it necessary that you pitch low or have every pitch turned into a home run in the stands," Mancusco said. "And they won's call a strike down around a batter's knees."

Croton-Miltons Re-New Rivalry

Gridiron Foes Will Battle Sunday Afternoon At Castle Field

On Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at Castle Field, the Croton Progressives football team hopes to extend its winning streak when it linesup against one of the stiffest foes in the city—the newly re-organized Milton A. C.

These two bitter rivals met for a number of years. In 1934, the Miltons shaded the Crotonites 20-14. In 1935, the Croton lads [illegible] tables 13-6. Coach Rubeis is fearful of the strong passing attack of the Miltons.

The battle ground is located off Scott street, on the site of the No. 4 fairway of the old field club in the Croton district. A large crowd is predicted.

Yanks Hammer Hubbell, Take Series Opener

Score Is 8 To 1 As Great Carl Hubbell Is Driven To Showers In Sixth

GIANTS INFIELD PLAYS WOBBLY

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

YANKEE STADIUM, N. Y., Oct. 7—For five and a fraction innings Wednesday, Carl Hubbell was the master pitcher, the paragon who could do no wrong. Then, with startling suddenness, the New York Yankees went on a characteristic rampage, scored seven runs, drove Hubbell from the scene and won the opening game of the 1937 world series from the startled and distress New York Giants. The final score was 8 to 1, with thirteen men going to bat in that wild, delirious sixth inning.

A near record crowd, estimated at 65,000, witnessed the slaughter highly reminiscent of some features of last year's series between the two clubs, with the Yankees showing no charity for the sucker-pitching of the opposition. As a result of the performance, the Yankees, already favored at odds of 5 to 2 became prohibitive favorites to take the title.

This was made inevitable both by the collapse of Hubbell, Giant ace left hander, and the commendable pitching of Lefty Gomez, for the Yanks. Except for one spell around the fifth and sixth inning, the Giants seemed mesmerized by Lefty's fast ball, and curve, going out in order in four of the nine innings.

Rigby Ordered To Pay Conn

Pittsburgh Fight Promoter Ordered To Pay Conn For Last Fight

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 7.—A flat 24-hour warning to pay off Billy Conn or forfeit part of his bond brought immediate action on the part of Pittsburgh's "boy promoter," Elwood Rigby, today as Dr. W. D. McClelland, chairman of the State Athletic Commission, made his first move in clearing muddled ring conditions here.

Conn received only part of his percentage after his second bout with Teddy Yarosz recently and McClelland ordered Rigby to settle the debt within 24 hours or he would deduct the amount from the promoter's bond. Conn, according to reports, fought on a 30 per cent basis, which with a little more than $13,000 net, would have brought him close of $4,000. Yarosz received $5,000.

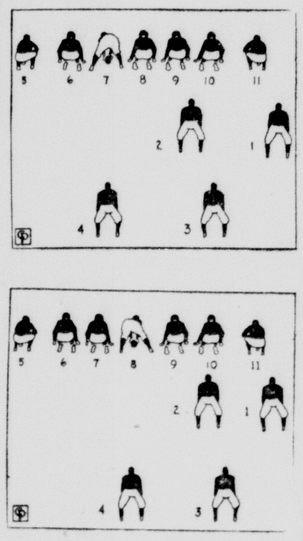
Rigby said he and Conn had reached an amicable agreement and that he planned to match the youthful state middleweight champion with Solly Kreiger next month.

"Conn, his advisers and I have come to an agreement," Rigby said. "I am going to settle my business with Billy today and then I will go ahead with plans for the Conn-Kreiger bout."

Mysteries Of Wingback Told

Hugo Bezdeck Explains Difference In Backfield Formation Which Puzzles Fan

Coach Hugo Bezdek of the Cleveland Pro Rams, former coach at Penn State college, explains the meaning of the single wingback, for the benefit of many football fans who have never been able to understand what is meant by that particular formation.



Two examples of the single wingback, with balanced and unbalanced line.

The term single wingback simply means one of the backs is outside either the right or left end, depending upon whether the shift is to the right or left. The formation may be used with either balanced or unbalanced line. A line is unbalanced when a guard or tackle is shifted so as to place four men on one side of the center, leaving two on the other.

The single wing develops power on the strong side. By the way, the "strong side" often is misinterpreted. The backfield position determines the strong side, not the arrangement of the linemen. The formation is excellent for end runs, alternating with bucks through tackle or guard. Its weakness, of course, is the short side.

The wingback is credited to the genius of Coach Pop Warner. Coaches, designing defenses to meet it, shifted accordingly. A tendency to overshift led to creation of many deceptive plays to the short side, making it dangerous for the opponent to overshift.

Are women gaining in power? Well, with men knitting and cooking and patronizing beauty parlors, somebody has to show some manhood.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

He turned in a neat performance in which he won with practically no competition from Eastern Shore, last year's winner, who finished third. Well-Stepped won second place.

Newark, International league champions, at Columbus, O., last night won the little world series when they beat the Columbus Red Birds, American Association pennant winners, 10 to 4 in the deciding game. The Bears won four games played at Columbus, to win four to three.

Evergold, eight year old campaigner of the Shandon farm, returned to the Laurel, Md. track yesterday and won the Grade B handicap, feature race of the Maryland Fair card. He won by a length and a half over Wild Turkey, second and Evening Tide, third.

Miss Marion Miley lost to Mrs. Opal S. Hill, three and two and Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare was downed by Mrs. Charles Newbold, two and one in the 1937 Women's National Golf championships at Memphis, Tenn., yesterday. Both defeats occurred in the third round. They were two of the favorites eliminated.

Washington May Bring Band For Game On Friday

Town Of Washington Is Agog Over Game With New Castle

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner, of Senior High announced today that there is a strong possibility that the 60 piece Washington high band may make the trip to New Castle for the big game here Friday night.

It seems as if the Washington boys have new uniforms and they want to show here. The townspeople of Washington are quite upset over the impending game here. They figure as how the "Little Presidents" are ripe to take the New Castle "Hurricane" for a ride.

There will probably be well over 1,000 Washington fans in New Castle for the night battle. Be sure to treat them courteously.

Hubbell Claims DiMaggio Tough Batter To Face

"You Simply Can't Fool That Boy DiMaggio," Says Giant Heaver

BARTELL SORRY HE DROPPED BALL

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—In the dressing rooms . . . Dead pans among the Giants . . . Joe Brown grins on the Yanks . . . Giants sore . . . Blame umpire, breaks and Di Maggio for losing . . . Yanks, though, say it was too much Gomez.

Gus Mancuso, most articulate of the Giants, emerges from showers . . . "Melton will beat 'em sure," he says . . . (Melton, knotting fancy tie, wags loving cup ears, grins) . . . "He's got what it takes," Gus insists . . . "A fast-breaking low curve and a swell change of pace to mix with his high hard one . . . Pulling the string on the fast one always stops those power hitters . . . But if he makes any mistakes . . . Goodnight! . . ."

Bartell feels terrible about dropping a throw during the Yankee uprising yesterday.

"Guess I tried to put the ball on Gomez before I had it," he says ruefully.

Hubbell Is Sad

Hub, more sad-faced than ever, sits naked on rubbing table, head bowed . . . Seems pale and drawn . . . But he blames nobody . . . Neither Bartell nor the umpire . . . And he offers no alibi . . . Admits the Yanks are a great club and says Di Maggio is about the toughest hitter he ever faced . . . "It's almost impossible to fool him with anything," says Hub. "I'd rather pitch to anybody than to him. He's just plain poison for any pitcher."

TALES IN TIDBITS

By BILI BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Return of Tommy Farr to his beloved England gives one of the writers in "Answers," a London periodical, an occasion for tossing a few bouquets our way. Get a load of what Ralph Regan writes about us:

bbbknowmunity theb

"Farr must be thoroughly sick of the place where the world's yellowest press slung insults at him before the fight—and then slobbered over him with vulgar flattery after he'd stayed the course with Joe Louis.

"I know something of what he had to put up with. I've seen the American papers. They are a million times worse than the few cabled reports in the British press suggested. Farr stuck it. Though he didn't conquer Louis, he knocked out the smart alecks and cheap wisecrackers who jeered at him. Those wisecrackers sing a different tune now. But there's still a venemous hiss in it. They've hit on a new, subtler way of belittling Tommy—by crabbing the man he fought.

"Louis is still champion. But if he and Tommy meet again, the chances are he won't be any more. (Are you sure, Mr. Regan?)

"So the Black Bomber, the invincible of yesterday, is already written down as a has-been. The American fight fans are now booing the man they cheered. Good Lord! That's a sidelight on Yankee sportsmanship! But its typcial. Over in America if a man's a success, they lick his boots. If he fails—or looks like failing—they kick him.

"Judging from the New York papers, decent Americans don't take an interest in boxing. I don't wonder. Even before this latest exhibition they must have been ashamed of the muddle-headed morons who were letting their country down. All that pre-fight Louis worship was a fantastic farce in a land where an educated Negro—a lawyer or parson or writer with an international reputation — is something a bit lower than a mangy mongrel dog.

"No Negro can get rooms in a white hotel in 'free' America. No Negro will be served in an ordinary restaurant. If a "nigger" dares to ride in the front section of a street car, he's thrown out, or hustled to the back. Everywhere there's a color bar. If a man is known to have even the tiniest drop of black blood in his veins, he may as well commit suicide. His touch is contamination."

Writer Regan goes along to point out the persecution of Negroes in America, floggings, burning at the stake, lynching, etc., concluding that such is "the bloodstained background of the adulation of Louis—the martyrdom of 12,000,000 Negroes."

"And when he wins a world title, they call it an American victory!" is one of the critic's parting thrusts.

"A country where a game young boxer, about to tackle the biggest job of his career, is sneered at and insulted as Farr was, is no place for a sportsman. Farr has confounded them all. But his work over there is finished, for the time being at any rate. He deserves to breathe some pure air again. Let him send the yahoo yellow press to blazes and come back where he belongs, where his sportsmanship is appreciated, because the true spirit of sport is in our blood."

Well, I'll be darned!

Penn State Ready To Meet Bucknell

Game Saturday At State College Is Fiftieth Year Of Competition

(Special To The News)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 7.—Penn State's alumni homecoming crowd on Saturday will witness the continuation of a gridiron feud between the Nittany Lions and Bucknell which began exactly 50 years ago.

Penn State, encouraged by its improved performance against Gettysburg, hopes to repeat last year's victory over Bucknell. Prior to that game the Lions had not registered a triumph over their rivals from Lewisburg since 1926.

State's players are entirely recovered from the low spirits which resulted from Cornell's one touchdown victory in the season's opener. The Big Red's stunning upset of Colgate Saturday has served to give the Blue and White squad a feeling of confidence for the remainder of the schedule.

Coach Bob Higgins hopes to have several regular linemen available this week who missed at least one of the last two encounters with Cornell and Gettysburg. Johnny Economos, star guard; Danny DeMarino, veteran tackle; Paul Enders, regular center, and Grover Washabaugh, sophomore end, all have a good chance of being ready for the Bison game.

Penn State may be further strengthened by the return of Lloyd Ickes, sophomore blocking halfback who was injured at Cornell. Tony Giannantonio, who replaced Ickes in practice last week, but was injured in a scrimmage, will probably be out of combat for at least another week.

Against Gettysburg, Coach Higgins moved Johnny Patrick, who usually alternates with Harry Harrison in the number four backfield post, to wing back. Patrick did well in his new position and may continue to play there this week.

With both Harrison and Patrick in the lineup together for the first time, State presents a pair of fleet running backs who are always a dangerous threat to the opposition. Joe Metro at fullback or No. 3, and Co-Captain Sammy Donato in the No. 2 post, will probably complete the Lion backfield.

Boycott On All Japanese Goods Being Proposed

American Federation Of Labor Prepares To Ask Working Men Boycott Japan

(International News Service)

DENVER, Oct. 7—The American Federation of Labor today followed the lead of the government in assailing Japan, and prepared to adopt a a resolution calling on the working men of the nation to boycott all goods manufactured in that country.

There are approximately three and a quarter million individual members of the A. F. of L., and their families approach the twelve million mark. Thus, a rigid boycott such as was proposed and seemed certain of adoption, would prove a material impediment to the sale of Japanese goods in the United States.

I. M. Ornburn of Washington, D. C., secretary of the Union Labels Department of the federation, proposed the boycott, and backed up his resolution with a statement that every dollar of Japanese goods bought by this country puts just that much into the bank account of the war lords of Japan.

The resolution swiftly gathered support here as the 500 A. F. of L. annual convention delegates received news of the government's action in terming Nippon the aggressor in the current fighting in the Orient.

Stock Market Turns Higher

Trading Is At Moderately Active Pace During Morning Hours

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The stock market turned higher today, after a weak start and a somewhat irregular first hour performance. Trading was at a moderately active pace.

Early selling, bringing losses to almost two points, was partly attributed to foreign sources, in view of the fortnightly settlement day in London. Yesterday's late bulge in the market also attracted some profit-taking.

Within a few minutes of the opening, stocks met support and reversed its trend.

Steels were the feature, starting with losses of 1¾ point each in Bethlehem and U. S. Steel, then recovering rapidly late in the first hour. Bethlehem converted its loss into a gain of a point and big steel did about as well, while Youngstown spurted two points after slipping fractionally.

Aviations were strong from the start, led by Douglas with a jump of better than two points and Boeing which ran up almost as much.

Rails recovered losses running to a point, but failed to make much headway on the upside. Coppers turned in a similar performance. Oils, amusements, rubbers and mail orders were among the groups to change minor losses into equalsized gains later in the forenoon.

Individual features included Westinghouse, Air Reduction, Allied Chemical, each up about two points. General Foods and Lorillard were independently soft, both reaching new lows for the year before meeting support.

The London market was comparatively quiet and steady. The Paris bourse lost ground, however. Foreign exchange quotations were little changed, the dollar ruling steady.

Commodities were easier, cotton again slipping into new low ground. Grains dipped fractionally at Chicago. Bonds were mixed and somewhat easier.

UNITED STATES TO JOIN PARLEY TO SEEK PEACE

reached the American state department before Secretary of State Hull issued a ringing statement of approval.

The United States added its own indictment to the league condemnation of Japan, declaring that the Kellogg-Briand anti-war pact also has been violated.

First Action Under Pact

It was the first time in history the United States has taken action under the nine-power pact, which guarantees the territorial integrity and sovereignty of China.

But the action does not mean this government will resort to war.

A state department spokesman emphasized the American government has simply thrown its moral support behind the league in condemning Japan.

In approving the league's condemnation of Japan, which was voted by 50 nations, the state department asserted:

"In the light of the unfolding developments in the Far East the government of the United States has been forced to the conclusion that the action of Japan in China is inconsistent with the principles which should govern the relationships between nations and is contrary to the provisions of the nine-power treaty of February 6, 1922, regarding principles and policies to be followed in matters concerning China, and to those of the Kellogg-Briand pact of August 27, 1928.

"Thus the conclusions of this government with respect to the foregoing are in general accord with those of the assembly of the League of Nations."

Provisions Of Pact

Under the nine-power pact, Japan, the United States, Great Britain, France, China, Italy, Holland, Belgium and Portugal agreed "to respect the sovereignty, the independence and the territorial and administrative integrity of China."

The treaty, fostered by the United States, was signed at Washington, February 6, 1922, during the arms limitation conference.

The pact does not call for armed enforcement by the signatory nations but that in case of violations "there shall be full and frank communication between the contacting powers."

The League of Nations assembly resolution turned over to the nine-power signatories that are league members the task of determining what shall be done about the Far Eastern conflict.

The United States, although not a league member, also was invited to participate. Japan withdrew from the league following indictment by that body after the Sino-Japanese conflict of 1931-32 in which she seized Manchuria and created the puppet state, Manchukuo. Italy, although still actually a league member, has not been sitting in on its sessions and Germany walked out several years ago.

Three Aggressors Not In Pact

Thus the three aggressive nations specifically aimed at in President Roosevelt's speech for their "international anarchy," would not be represented in the deliberations of the nine-power pact conferees.

Just how far the United States is prepared to go remained to be determined. President Roosevelt at Chicago declared he would keep this nation out of war, while at the same time asserting concerted effort must be taken to halt the aggressor nations which threaten to plunge the world into another war. Such a war would destroy civilization, he said.

In administration quarters it was flatly asserted the United States will not join in any sanctions against Japan.

JAPAN ASSERTS COURSE WILL NOT BE ALTERED NOW

applied against Tokyo, "complete national unity will tide the nation over the crisis."

Call More To Colors.

Tokyo, Oct. 7.—In a grim reply to the United States government's statement branding her an aggressor, Japan called new recruits to the colors today.

Preparing for any eventuality as a result of condemnation of its China campaign by the United States and the League of Nations assembly, the Japanese government made it plain she has no intention of altering her course.

On the contrary, Nippon is ready to take stern measures to carry out her aims on the Asiatic continent despite virtually world-wide opposition.

Widespread resumption of calling men to the colors—after a silence of two weeks—was regarded by observers here as the most significant reply Japan has made to the declaration of the American state department, condemning Japan as a treaty breaker and invader.

Everywhere recruiting agents went to working, summoning able bodied men to don military khaki.

Japan Disappointed.

At the same time an official spokesman told International News Service the Japanese government is "greatly disappointed" by America's statement.

In an editorial obviously inspired by official sources, the newspaper Asahi summed up the general Japanese reaction to Washington's latest move in the far eastern war theatre. It commented:

"If the United States tries to play in unison with the Geneva rhapsody, this action will only irritate the Japanese and will not enhance the ideals of the United States."

This reaction, like virtually all previous explanations by Japan of her far eastern course, is based on the conviction here that Japan is fighting a "holy war" in China for the benefit of the far east and the world. That other nations do not regard the conflict in the same light is a sore point with the Japanese, who claim they are "misunderstood" by the western world.

At a special emergency meeting, high foreign officials subjected the Washington pronouncement to a minute scrutiny, and announced some official comment probably would be made later.

Officials intimated that it was a "serious matter" and cautioned against accepting any comment "outside official circles."

Japanese Public Stunned.

Meanwhile, the Japanese public was stunned by vehemence of the Washington statement, since it had heretofore been led to believe the United States approved of Japan's actions in China.

England, the Japanese public had been told repeatedly, formed Japan's "worst economic and political opposition".

Despite the government's attitude of withholding comment until the American charges have been fully studied, a foreign office spokesman told International News Service:

"We have already made clear our attitude in our previous replies to Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

"It is untimely now to apply the nine power and Kellogg-Briand pacts to this situation. The principles involved do not apply to these treaties.

"It is inevitable the statement will bring on bad feeling between Japan and the United States. We regret that Washington has not realized that Japan is determined to carry out her fixed policy.

"It is unfortunate the United States has seen fit to mix in the far eastern conflict. The American statement does not serve any useful purpose."

Reaction Unfavorable.

The Tokyo press reaction to the state department, and to President Roosevelt's peace speech at Chicago was generally unfavorable.

The papers said the president's speech was idealistic and "in need of reconsideration." It failed to take Japan's aims into account, the press charged.

The Asahi went on to rebuke the United States for its statement of condemnation, remarking:

"Hostilities simuly will be prolonged further by encouraging China and Chinese troops who are now on the verge of collapse.

"If the United States intends to have a voice in measures for establishing peace in the far east, she can gain such qualification by maintaining strict neutrality."

The newspaper Kokumin added:

"We counsel pacifists to study the true cause of international friction and disharmony and endeavor to remove it before heaping accusations on other nations."

And the influential newspaper Yomiuri, in a terse expression of the Japanese view, declared:

"The nine power pact virtually died with termination of the Washington treaty."

Former Members Of Savannah M. E. Church And Residents Of Community To Gather

NEW PASTOR TO GIVE ADDRESS

Plans have been completed for the annual home-coming for former members of the Savannah M. E. church and former residents of that community which will take place Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The new pastor, Rev. R. H. Eckert, will speak during the program and with members of the official board, the new Sunday school superintendent, Henry Taylor, and teachers and officers of the Sunday school and church societies, has been active in arranging the details of the program for the day.

As has been the custom in the past, many of those from a distance will attend the morning worship service, and will have their lunch in the church basement, when coffee will be furnished by the ladies of the church.

The cemetery, where the loved ones of members of the congregation and former residents are interred, has been put in the best condition ever noted in recent years, and will be a veritable bower of flowers on Sunday.

The memory of those buried there will be honored at the service Sunday afternoon, and after the program, a reunion period will be enjoyed when the cemetery will be visited.

As has been stated before, the committee in charge of the arrangements wishes it understood that the gathering Sunday is not only for members and former members of the Savannah M. E. church, but for all former residents of the community or those who have relatives and friends buried in the cemetery.

Germany Refuses To Scold Japan

Perceive British-Inspired Maneuver Behind Roosevelt's Denunciation Of Japan

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—Germany perceived a British-inspired maneuver behind Washington's denunciation of Japan today—and gave it a cold shoulder.

All indications were that Germany would remain solidly with Italy in refusing to make any move against the Japanese campaign in China, despite denunciations by America or the league of nations.

Confirmation of this view was seen when the Japanese ambassador to Berlin left his residence with a military attache—presumably to call upon the Berlin foreign ministry.

At the same time, high German quarters indicated Germany would not lift a finger against Japan, and that the official Berlin point of view is that Japan's actions in the Orient are none of Germany's business.

Alliance Meeting Is Well Attended

Speakers Dwell Upon Problems Of Needy In The Coming Winter Season

Approximately two hundred men and women were in the audience in city hall Wednesday night when a mass meeting was conducted by the Workers' Alliance, Local No. 65. The meeting was called to discuss a program of action for the coming winter concerning clothes and coal for the needy.

Thomas Hanlon, president of the Alliance, was the principal speaker and he dealt with the problems of those now on relief or the WPA. He suggested a drive to protect those who are said to be discriminated against on the WPA or in securing work on the WPA and a community wide campaign to enroll all religious, labor and civic bodies in support of a study of the conditions of the less fortunate. A committee of five was elected to go into the matter.

In addition to Mr. Hanlon, Rev. M. C. Mills, pastor of St. Paul's Baptist church, and others spoke. Rev. Mills dealt with the problems of the colored race and the necessity of a friendly feeling of cooperation between that race and the whites. Rev. Mills was designated as the Alliance representative to attend the national Negro Congress in Philadelphia on October 15.

Young Mussolini Is Enroute East

Young Son Of Italian Dictator Leaves Hollywood Suddenly For East

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Enroute east by air after quitting Hollywood suddenly, Vittorio Mussolini, 21-year-old son of the Italian dictator, said on a stopover here today that he hopes to pay a visit to President Roosevelt in Washington before sailing for Italy.

The young Italian said that he had read the president's recent Chicago speech, flaying aggressor nations, but he would not comment on it.

Mussolini seemed slightly confused when asked about the Roosevelt address.

"Would he care to comment on it?"

The reply was:

"Yes, yes, indeed. That is, no, no, indeed."

He flatly denied that he had spoken to his father over the long distance telephone. He said:

"I have not received a single word from my father since arriving in this country."

PROCTOR HURT AT ARMY AIR FIELD

Clifford N. Proctor, New Castle youth in the army service, was seriously injured when he was crushed by a truck in some manner at Langley Field, Va., this week, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Proctor, Highland avenue, were notified today.

Young Proctor will be remembered as the tenor of a Senior high school quartet which took honors in contests last spring.

The message to the family said Clifford was pinned somehow between a heavy army truck and a loading dock and that he was terribly crushed. A doctor announced it may be a year before he can do any work. He is now in the base hospital at the Langley air field.

Hospital Planning Food Ingathering

A called meeting of all workers of the New Castle hospital and others interested, is scheduled for Monday night of the coming week, at 8 o'clock in the hospital assembly rooms. They will complete plans for their annual ingathering of food at this time.

A special drive will be outlined for this month, when donations of jellies, staple goods and other foods will be taken to the hospital. Residents have always responded whole heartedly, and it is hoped the same spirit will prevail this year.

Report Men With Dependents Have Been Given Work

All men with dependents who are employed and eligible to employment on the Works Progress Administration, as of September 1st, have either been put to work or have been offered employment it was said today in the WPA office. This condition applies not alone to Lawrence county but to all of district 14 it was said.

Some time ago the quota for the district was raised from 5400 to 6000. At the time the quota was raised the district was not down to the required 5400 so that the net increase would not be quite 600. In Lawrence county it meant the addition of between 75 and 100 employes.

In the new persons placed on the WPA rolls, some single cases have been put on but these have been the older single persons. Many resignations have been received from people who have returned to private industry.
